Dear Parents and Educators,

As a former adult literacy coach and the father of three children, I know that learning to read isn't always easy. That's why I developed Sounds Like Reading™—a series that uses a combination of devices to help children learn to read.

This book is the fourth in the Sounds Like Reading™ series. It uses rhyme, repetition, illustration, and phonics to introduce young readers to long vowel sounds and consonant blends—"sound-utable" letter combinations such as fl, tr, br, and st.

Starting on page 4, you'll see three rhyming words on each left-hand page. These words are part of the sentence on the facing page. They all feature long vowels and consonant blends. As the book progresses, the sentences become more challenging. These sentences contain a "discovery" word—an extra rhyming word in addition to those that appear on the left. Toward the end of the book, the sentences contain two discovery words. Children will delight in the increased confidence that finding and decoding these words will bring. They'll also enjoy looking for the mouse that appears throughout the book. The mouse asks readers to look for words that sound alike.

The bridge to literacy is one of the most important we will ever cross. It is my hope that the Sounds Like Reading™ series will help young readers to hop, gallop, and skip from one side to the other!

Sincerely,

Brian P. Cleary
